THE IMPACT OF BANKING CRISIS BY DEVELOPMENT OF CORPORATE CONFLICTS OF BANKS IN UKRAINE

Oksana.B. DENYS

PhD, Associate Prof., Chair of HR and Labour Economics, Lviv Institute of Banking University, Ukraine

Summary. The goal of the article is the research of trends of corporate conflict in the banking system. The author pays attention to the influence of crisis of banking system of Ukraine on corporate conflict and specific features.

Key words: bank, banking crisis, corporate conflicts, regulatory policy.

The dynamic of banks creation, the bank failures, the structure of the resource base, the direction of investment and return on investment are investigated.

Results shown that 2014-2015 years were the most difficult in the history of domestic banks.

Based on statistical analysis the conclusion about the most in the banking sector history of Ukraine mass bankruptcy of banks and corporate conflict of banks (number of banks during the crisis fell to 120 banks; compared to the year 2012 the reduction was 25%) was made.

Most banks have become parties to lawsuits that can be divided into two groups: those where banks have tried to sue previously issued loans and claims against the banks refund assigned to the deposit.

The deployment of the crisis was the catalyst for new forms of conflicts such as conflicts between banks and the National Bank, conflicts between banks and institute of guaranty of depositors of banks

As the negative trends in the banking system of Ukraine reasons were identified: inadequate risk management at individual banks, and shortcomings of regulatory activity of the National Bank of Ukraine.
